Concept of Sustained Release Formulation

The Concept of sustained release formulation can be divided into two considerations i.e. release rate & dose consideration.

A) Release rate Consideration;
In conventional dosage form $K_r > K_a$ in this the release of drug from dosage form is not rate limiting step.

Diagram:

Dosage form $\xrightarrow[\text{Drug release}]{K_r}$ Absorption pool $\xrightarrow[\text{Drug absorption}]{K_a}$ Target area $\xrightarrow[\text{Drug elimination}]{K_e}$

The above criteria i.e. ($K_r > K_a$) is in case of immediate release, whereas in non immediate ($K_r < K_a$) i.e. release is rate limiting step.
