Program Report

Title of the Seminar:	Date of the Event:	Venue:
Advanced Techniques in Qualitative Research: Uncovering Deep Insights	08-06-2019	Seminar Hall, Narayana Pharmacy College

Report:

The goal of the August 6, 2019 session, "Advanced Techniques in Qualitative Research: Uncovering Deep Insights," was to improve students comprehension of cutting-edge qualitative research methodologies.

Objectives:

The key objectives were to introduce participants to state-of-the-art methods for gathering and analyzing data, investigate the use of technology in qualitative research, and talk about approaches for getting relevant, in-depth insights.

Conclusions:

The seminar's outcomes included a better understanding of modern qualitative research procedures, improved competency with advanced analytical tools, and a collaborative exchange of ideas among researchers from other disciplines. By the time they left, they had a full understanding of how to apply these methodologies to improve the breadth and quality of their research findings, establishing themselves as pioneers in the field of creative qualitative research.

Program Report

Title of the Seminar:	Date of the Event:	Venue:
Seminar on "Navigating Intellectual Property Rights: Essentials for Innovators and Creators"	19-07-2019	Seminar Hall, Narayana Pharmacy College

Report:

The seminar on "Navigating Intellectual Property Rights: Essentials for Innovators and Creators," conducted on 19-07-2019, aimed to equip students with essential knowledge and tools to effectively manage and protect intellectual property (IP).

Objectives:

The principal objectives were to clarify the foundational ideas of intellectual property law, examine different forms of IP protection like copyrights, trademarks, and patents, and offer helpful advice on preserving original and creative works.

Outcomes:

The seminar's outcomes included a greater comprehension of intellectual property rules and how they are used, improved abilities to navigate the complexity of IP protection, and a boost in self-assurance regarding the efficient management of IP assets. After attending, students had practical methods for safeguarding their inventions and creative works, which encouraged a more knowledgeable and proactive approach to intellectual property management. Participants were able to address specific issues and receive useful guidance related to their industries through interactive case studies and Q&A sessions.

Program Report

Title of the Seminar:	Date of the Event:	Venue:
Seminar on "Entrepreneurship: Essential Skills and Mindsets for Success"	23-08-2019	Seminar Hall, Narayana Pharmacy College

Report:

The intention of the seminar, "Entrepreneurship: Essential Skills and Mindsets for Success," which took place on August 23, 2019, was to give prospective business owners a thorough understanding of the key skills and mindsets required for successful ventures.

Objectives:

The key goals were to teach participants to the core qualities necessary for successful entrepreneurship, such as strategic planning, financial management, and leadership. The program also attempted to build the necessary mindsets for successful entrepreneurial enterprises, such as endurance, creativity, and adaptability. One of the highlights was a case study analysis of successful businesses, which provided real-world examples of beneficial techniques as well as typical errors.

Outcomes:

The seminar resulted in a better grasp of the essential skills required for entrepreneurship, as well as a strengthened attitude focused on innovation and resilience. Students learned effective techniques for starting and building their businesses, as well as practical tools for navigating the entrepreneurial world. By the end of the seminar, students had gained the knowledge and confidence to set out on their entrepreneurial journeys.

Program Report

Title of the Seminar:	Date of the Event:	Venue:
Seminar on "Innovations in Research Methodology: Bridging Theory and Practice"	14-09-2019	Seminar Hall, Narayana Pharmacy College

Report:

The seminar, "Innovations in Research Methodology: Bridging Theory and Practice," sought to discuss the changing environment of research methodologies and their practical applications. The goals were to investigate the most recent advances in research methodologies, gain a better grasp of how theoretical frameworks translate into practical research approaches, and develop an environment of creativity and collaboration among academics. One of the standout features was the emphasis on bridging the gap between theoretical notions and practical application.

Outcomes:

Students got an in-depth knowledge of the most recent developments in research methods and how to use them in reality. They learned new abilities for using sophisticated research tools and procedures, which will help them perform high-quality, meaningful research. Furthermore, the seminar provided excellent networking possibilities, creating connections that will help improve the field of research methods. By the end of the session, attendees were better prepared to bridge the gap between theory and practice, resulting in innovation in their own research projects.

Seminar on "Global Perspectives on Intellectual Property Rights: Trends and Challenges"	26-10-2019	Seminar Hall, Narayana Pharmacy College

Report:

The seminar, titled "Global Perspectives on Intellectual Property Rights: Trends and Challenges," conducted on October 26, 2019, sought to provide a comprehensive overview of the growing global IP landscape. The goals included studying current global IP trends, comprehending overseas IP difficulties, and analyzing international IP frameworks. The lecture series includes case studies that highlight developing concerns including digital rights management and enforcement in various jurisdictions. Students learned how to navigate difficult worldwide IP settings and develop global intellectual property protection strategies. The program gave students a better grasp of global IP dynamics and provided them with practical tools for effective IP management.

Seminar on "Business entrepreneurship: From Concept to Execution"	14-11-2019	Seminar Hall, Narayana Pharmacy College

Report:

The seminar "Business Entrepreneurship: From Concept to Execution," presented on November 14, 2019, sought to help aspiring entrepreneurs through the whole lifespan of a business venture, from initial idea to successful execution. The key goals were to present a clear roadmap for developing company concepts into sustainable firms, to discuss critical areas of business planning, and to share practical solutions for overcoming execution obstacles. The event covered subjects such business model development, fundraising techniques, and operational management. Participants in interactive workshops were able to create their company strategies while also receiving professional comments.

Outcomes:

The outcomes included a better grasp of the entrepreneurial process, improved skills in business planning and execution, and practical insights into founding and managing a startup. Participants went away with real skills and techniques to successfully bring their business ideas to real world and make them in to their capital.

Program Report

Title of the Seminar:	Date of the Event:	Venue:
Workshop on "Introduction to Qualitative Research Methods: Techniques and Applications"	27-12-2019	Seminar Hall, Narayana Pharmacy College

Report:

The program, "Introduction to Qualitative Research Methods: Techniques and Applications," gave participants a solid foundation of qualitative research methodology and their practical applications. The workshop produced major results. Participants obtained a broad understanding of several qualitative methodologies, including in-depth interviews, focus groups, and thematic analyses. They learnt how to design and carry out qualitative research successfully, resulting in reliable data gathering and analysis. The hands-on activities gave learners the opportunity to experience these methodologies, from formulating research questions to analyzing qualitative data, reinforcing theoretical principles through actual application.

The session also enabled discussions on the ethical considerations and barriers inherent in qualitative research, providing participants with resources to handle these issues. The interactive structure promoted a collaborative learning atmosphere, allowing individuals to share their views and experiences. Overall, attendees gained new skills and confidence in using qualitative research methodologies, ready to apply these techniques to their own research projects and academic activities.

Program Report

Title of the Seminar:	Date of the Event:	Venue:
Seminar on "Future of Entrepreneurship: Trends, Technologies, and Transformations"	03-01-2020	Seminar Hall, Narayana Pharmacy College

Report:

The seminar, titled "Future of Entrepreneurship: Trends, Technologies, and Transformations," conducted on March 1, 2020, sought to investigate the changing landscape of entrepreneurship and the forces determining its future. The key goals were to detect emerging trends, investigate the influence of new technology, and understand how these changes are affecting entrepreneurial activities.

The Resource person spoke about crucial subjects like digital transformation, the rise of artificial intelligence in business, and the trend toward sustainable and social entrepreneurship. Attendees learned about cutting-edge technologies like block chain, artificial intelligence, and advanced data analytics, as well as the ramifications for future business models.

The seminar resulted in a better awareness of the future direction of entrepreneurship, increased knowledge on how to use emerging technology, and strategies for adjusting to ongoing transformations. Participants walked away with concrete ideas and a forward-thinking approach on navigating the shifting entrepreneurial landscape, better prepared to foresee and capitalize on future opportunities.

Title of the Seminar:	Date of the Event:	Venue:
Seminar on "Modern Techniques in Drug Research & Development"	12-02-2020	Seminar Hall, Narayana Pharmacy College

Report:

The seminar "Modern Techniques in Drug Research & Development," presented on December 2, 2020, focused on the most recent advances in pharmaceutical research and development procedures. The primary goals were to familiarize participants to novel methodologies for drug discovery, development, and testing, as well as to investigate how these innovations are reshaping the pharmaceutical industry. High-throughput screening methods, the use of artificial intelligence in drug discovery, and advances in personalized medicine were among the key themes discussed.

The event also discussed cutting-edge techniques such as CRISPR gene editing, innovative biomarkers, and improved imaging technologies. Interactive workshops allowed attendees to engage with these techniques hands-on, providing practical experience in applying new methodologies to drug development challenges. Discussions on regulatory considerations and ethical issues in modern drug research also featured prominently.

Program Report

Title of the Seminar:	Date of the Event:	Venue:
Workshop on "Intellectual Property Essentials: Protecting Your Ideas and Innovations"	05-03-2020	Seminar Hall, Narayana Pharmacy College

Report:

The workshop on "Intellectual Property Essentials: Protecting Your Ideas and Innovations," conducted on 05-03-2020, aimed to provide participants with fundamental knowledge and practical skills for safeguarding intellectual property (IP). The primary objectives were to elucidate the different types of IP protection, such as patents, trademarks, copyrights, and trade secrets, and to offer strategies for effectively managing and enforcing these rights.

Hands-on activities allowed participants to work on identifying IP issues in case studies and developing strategies to address them. The workshop also included discussions on common pitfalls and best practices for IP enforcement and dispute resolution.

Outcomes of the workshop included a solid understanding of IP fundamentals and the processes involved in securing and managing IP rights. Participants gained practical skills in navigating IP applications and enforcement, enhancing their ability to protect their innovations and ideas effectively. The workshop also fostered networking opportunities with IP professionals, providing valuable resources and support for future IP challenges.
