SUMMARY OF THE SEMINAR

MS. Jyothi, Soft skill trainer, House of Soft Skills, Nellore is efficient in soft skills training. She did her MBA in Human Resources. This organization trains the students efficient in Soft skills that are the personal attributes, behaviors, and qualities that enable individuals to effectively interact with others and navigate their environment.

Procrastination is the act of delaying things past the deadline despite knowing the negative consequences. No matter how well-organized and committed we are, chances are that we have found yourself frittering away hours on trivial pursuits. Procrastination in an academic career will affect the all-round development of an individual including academicians and students. The seminar was perhaps an instructive one to the participants in regretting on delaying things and in driving their career on track while handling things in a timely manner.

The participants including students and faculty members found the platform an excellent one to understand the significance of TIME MANAGEMENT. The speaker highlighted the Big Five reasons for procrastination. The self-assessment questionnaire was indeed supportive to the participants in evaluating themselves. The participants actively interacted with the speaker and made well use of the session in clarifying their doubts.

In a nutshell, Narayana Pharmacy College considers conducting such programs in the near future based on the positive inputs of the participants.

The writing of a thesis is very crucial for every pharmacy student, whether he is a B.Pharm, M.Pharm, or PhD. In this regard, Narayana Pharmacy College, Department of Pharmaceutical Chemistry, organized a seminar. Mr. Kiran Kumar, C.E.O, RISE Institutions, took the session wonderfully. He explained various software that could be used while writing the thesis. He explained easy techniques to break the glass ceilings of thesis writing. He also explained the clinical training which will be conducted by their organization. Faculty and students were very much impressed with the seminar, and doubts raised by students were clarified by the speaker. The end of the day programme was a grand success and the principal and staff felicitated the speaker. A total of 104 students participated in the program.

2 Day Training program on Communicative English

Date:

25/03/2022 to 26/03/2022

Venue:

Seminar Hall

INTRODUCTION :

Communicative English is an approach to language teaching and learning that emphasizes communication and interaction. It was introduced in the early 1970s and gained acceptance among English teachers, playing a leading role in English teaching. The approach focuses on the practical use of language in real-life situations and has been widely popular, particularly in college oral English teaching. Communicative English has faced criticism for its lack of emphasis on grammar and translation, but it is seen as a potential solution to language learning challenges. The approach aims to develop both academic and interpersonal competences, making it suitable for English for Academic Purposes (EAP) courses.

Objectives:

Select a brief audio clip, such as a news report, that delivers information that may be quickly summarised. Put the major ideas into a phrase or two.

Write down a formal introductory note on a personality, who is visiting your college on special event.

Imagine a guest is visiting your class, introduce him/her

Verbal Trainer, Placement and training Cell,
Narayana Engineering College, Nellore.

Name of the Program : Training program on communicative English

Date& Venue : 25/03/2022 to 26/03/2022& Seminar Hall

No of participants : 110

Outcomes of the Program:

The training program on Communicative English yielded enhanced language proficiency, improved confidence in verbal communication, and refined interpersonal skills among participants. It successfully equipped attendees with practical tools for effective communication in professional and social contexts, empowering them to articulate ideas more clearly and engage confidently in English conversations

Summary of the program: Communicative English is an approach to language teaching in which a student learns from real-life interaction, which can help to reinforce the value of their studies. This training programme explored exactly what Communicative English is, some techniques on how to improve your English communication skills, as well as exploring the Communicative Approach, a tried and tested method for improving English skills as effectively as possible.

The programme was started with registrations at the registration desk and the event was started with Jyothi Prajwalana by staff members and vice principal Dr. S. Sujata Madam. The speaker handed over the session and he explained how speaking fluently, one on one, with another English speaker is vitally important for various reasons. He mentioned the need to have the necessary communication skills in order to reach this level. At the end of the program, oral feedback was collected. Students felt satisfied and this programme was very useful for their professional careers.

Tasks has been given by speaker:

- Select a brief audio clip, such as a news report, that delivers information that may be quickly summarised. Put the major ideas into a phrase or two.
- Write down a formal introductory note on a personality, who is visiting your college on special event.
- Imagine a guest is visiting your class, introduce him/her
- Using the words and phrases form a meaningful sentence

An Awareness Program on

Diabetic Foot and Burns

DATE: 23-10-2021

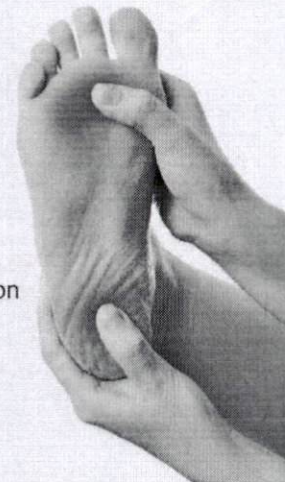

Resource Person :

Dr. Y. Suneel Kishore

MS, M.ch, FHMS Plastic & Cosmetic Surgeon

RIMS, Ongole, A.P

Introduction :

Patients with diabetes are prone to foot injuries and burns. Managing burned feet in patients with diabetes can be difficult due to multiple concomitant patient comorbidities that delay wound healing. Burn surgeons tasked with treating these complex foot burns understand that these patients are at risk of developing significant complications, such as infections and non-healing diabetic foot ulcers, which may ultimately lead to amputation. Although there are many studies that examine the causes and outcomes of diabetic foot ulcers and their management, there is a lack of consensus on how to best manage lower extremity burns in patients with diabetes.

Objectives:

- Welcome and introduction to the program.
- Importance of awareness regarding diabetic foot and burns.
- Causes and risk factors (diabetes-related complications).
- Symptoms and signs to watch out for.
- Importance of early detection and management.

Summary

Narayana Pharmacy College is always in front row that to provide excellent knowledge regarding various typical things. Among them Diabetic foot is one of the typical diseases. Diabetic foot disease (DFD) is a major challenge for the healthcare system, with enormous economic consequences for people living with diabetes, their families, and society, affecting both quality of life and quality of care. Lack of awareness, knowledge on diabetic foot made this so complicated. Awareness of good foot care is essential amongst T2DM patients and health care providers to reduce the incidence of foot. Dr. Suneel Kishore explained to the Pharm.D students excellently that how to prevent local trauma and/or infection, to manage abnormal pressure points, foot deformities, pre-existing vascular damage, associated cardiovascular diseases and to improve and self-practice of foot care. He also added different types, treatment and therapy for burns. All the III, IV, V and VI pharm D students participated very actively and interacted with speaker and clarified their doubts. Oral feedback was collected from the Participants they were very much satisfied with the seminar. At the end of the session Principal and staffs of Pharm.D were felicitated the guest with vote of Thanks.

Guest Lecture

“ OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND PERSONAL HYGIENE ”

Date : 25-05-2022

INTRODUCTION :

Occupational health and safety encompasses the social, mental and physical well-being of workers in all occupations. Poor working conditions have the potential to affect a worker's health and safety. Unhealthy or unsafe working conditions can be found anywhere, whether the workplace is indoors or outdoors.

Scope of occupational health safety and hygiene:

The scope of occupational health safety and hygiene includes prevention and control of hazards, curative and rehabilitative programs.

These are: - 1. Establishment of sound sanitary condition within the work place such as Water supply, waste disposal, canteen, cloak room, shower and hand washing facilities, sanitary and safe storage of chemicals.

2. Organization of health services including first aid
3. Health promotion in the work environment
4. Rehabilitation of those that have been injured
5. Prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of occupational related diseases and accidents

Speaker :

Summary

In order to reduce the risk of infection and hazards from biological agents and chemicals, students should follow good occupational safety and hygiene practices. Undertaking good personal hygiene is the act of looking after and maintaining your body in order to be clean and presentable for the workplace. Guest lecture was conducted by Dr. B. Penchala Prasanna M.B.B. S, M. D (Path), RIMS, Ongole, in the seminar hall, Narayana Pharmacy college, Nellore. The Pharm D and B. Pharm students received an excellent information on occupational safety and hygiene. She explained the principles of occupational safety in working areas like laboratories, animal houses, etc., and how to manage personal hygiene. Students listened intently and enthusiastically to the subject. The programme was well received, and the students thought it would improve their working conditions.

Training Session on Yoga

Theme : Yoga for humanity

Date: 21st June, 2022

Introduction

The initiative for "Yoga Day" was taken by India's Prime Minister Narendra Modi and the related resolution received broad global support, with 177 nations co-sponsoring it in the United Nations General Assembly, where it passed unanimously. [7] Subsequently, the first International Yoga Day was celebrated successfully on 21 June 2015, across the world including New York, Paris, Beijing, Bangkok, Kuala Lumpur, Seoul and New Delhi.

Objectives

The purpose of the International Day of Yoga is to increase public awareness of the various advantages of yoga practice. Balance is the key component of yoga, not simply balance within the body or between the mind and body, but also equilibrium in one's interaction with the outside world.

Targeted Participants

Faculty members, Pharmacy and PharmD students

headquarters to engage in yoga sessions led by experienced instructors. The day commenced with an opening ceremony highlighting the significance of yoga in promoting physical, mental, and spiritual wellness. Throughout the event, attendees enthusiastically participated in various yoga postures and breathing exercises, experiencing firsthand the benefits of relaxation and mindfulness.

Interactive workshops and demonstrations focused on different aspects of yoga, including its historical roots and modern applications in promoting overall health. Participants also engaged in discussions about integrating yoga into daily routines to reduce stress and enhance quality of life. The celebration fostered a sense of community and camaraderie among attendees, reinforcing the universal appeal of yoga as a pathway to peace and well-being.

Together with the instructor, the students participated actively in the yoga training session and gained firsthand knowledge. Students' feedback, which was solicited openly, indicated that this training session was extremely helpful.

Manufacturing and trial enhancement Well-developed pharmaceutical software allows pharma companies to automate and optimize their R&D operations and clinical trials. Dept of Pharmacology, Narayana Pharmacy College, and Nellore organised workshop on Expharma series software. The speaker delivered excellent info about essential fundamentals for performing software. She explained computer assisted learning (CAL) software containing various programs which simulate animal experiments in Pharmacology. These programs can be used to demonstrate effect of drugs on different animals systems. The programme was very useful for students. B. Pharmacy II and III-year students, were participated in the programme and felt that program was very useful. At the eve of the program, oral feedback was collected and students expressed that they gained knowledge about clinical and pharmacological software. The principal and staff thanked the guest for delivering a nice lecture.
